No more parking woes atop Chamundi Hill

- Soon, multi-level automated parking facility can accommodate 1,200 cars
- District Minister, PWD Minister scheduled to inspect project today

Mysuru, June 29 (RK&BCT)- Parking woes atop the iconic Chamundi Hill will soon be a thing of the past as the works on completing the multi-level automated three-level parking project is on full swing. Apart from parking, there are a host of other facilities that are provided to the devotees including a 500-metre walkway from the parking lot to the temple. This walkway is covered at the top to protect devotees from sun and rain.

Mysuru District Minister G.T. Devegowda, accompanied by Public Works Department (PWD) Minister H.D. Revanna and a battery of officials, was scheduled to visit the Hill today afternoon to see the progress of the works. The project, undertaken by the PWD, includes the multi-level parking, walkway and new 116 shops built for the vendors to sell puja items. The 79.9 crore project is funded by the money obtained from the Chamundi Temple funds.

Every day, an average of more than 10,000 people visit Sri Chamundeshwari Temple atop the Hill, one of the famous tourist spots in Mysuru. The multi-level pay-and-park facility can easily accommodate more than 1,200 cars.

Much-delayed project

The total area earmarked for the project is eight acres and the built-up area is 31,000 square meters. Though the foundation for the project was laid in April 2016, the work was delayed due to various hurdles including environmental clearances and the actual work started in November 2016 and was to be completed in March 2017 but delayed further due to various bottlenecks.

Speaking to Star of Mysore this morning, PWD Executive Engineer Vinay Kumar and Assistant Executive Engineer Raju said that environmentalists had filed several petitions against the multi-level parking works and all the hurdles have been cleared now. Also, there was a huge presence of rocks in the construction area and this delayed the works.

From 600 cars to 1,200

"Initially, we had planned the multi-level parking facility to accommodate 600 cars. But we came up with the idea of mechanised car parking so that all the three levels of the building can accommodate four-wheelers. Now a total of 1,200 cars can be parked in this pay-and-park facility," they said.

City Police to implement night entry ban to Chamundi Hill from 9 pm to 6 am

Mysuru, June 29 (RK&BCT)- The City Police have banned vehicle parking in front of Kote Anjaneyaswamy Temple, Palace North Gate. This parking lot is usually crowded and it blocks the splendid view of the Mysore Palace from far.

Tale of traditional traders

The times when many time-honoured areas among the multitude of human pursuits first witnessed emergence of terms such as bio-technology, bio-engineering, bio-this and bio-that and subsequently suffered veiled ridicule from the orthodoxy before either fading on count of novelty in public domain or accepted without perceptible fanfare. Currently, the world in general and almost all its constituent countries in particular have got submerged as it were in e-this, e-that with e-commerce and e-banking swallowing the masses knocking out their time-honoured paper/pen-dependent transactions, leaving the digitally-illiterate sections stranded and feeling badly let down. The army of computer software professionals are calling the shots generating apps in numbers beyond the ability of lay masses to make out how to make them part of their daily life. The elderly, confronting the gen next taking to brazenly computerised ways of life have no option other than learning at the hands (feet) of their progeny, often facing embarrassing moments. The rapidly emerging area of e-commerce, unwittingly, has dealt a deathblow to traditional traders such as kirana shops, which have first got hit by glitzy malls and departmental stores and now e-this and e-that.

Trading in the articles sought by citizens such as daily needs of grocery as well as other materials figuring in events such as festivals, marked by long history, used to be the calling of a specific section of society. So also, the hotel enterprise. That order has yielded to the present scenario in which trading is no longer tied to a particular section of society.

The example of Mysuru and other cities with comparable features of the socio-economic image across the country illustrate the gradual makeover from brick and mortar retail outlets to online shopping under the e-commerce umbrella. Multinational players have set shop in the land enabling citizens to buy all their needs, tiny as well as voluminous, without having to move out of the confines of their homes. The traditional trading fraternity, hit by loss and even their captive customers, are on the verge of extinction. The government has taken note of the goings on in the e-commerce sector and has announced framing a national policy on retail trade. The policy is learnt to address specific issues concerning the Centre as well as the States.

The proposed e-commerce policy, expected to be out in September may bring order, which is missing in the light of cut-throat competition among the players offering unprecedented discounts to allure the gullible masses. With that, we come to the sad end of the tale of traditional traders.

EDITOR'S BOTTOMLINE

Self-styled Godman Namdeo Das Tyagi, popularly known as Computer Baba, has hit the headlines once again. The Madhya Pradesh Government has appointed him Chairman of the Narmada River Trust. Just after his appointment, Tyagi asked for a chopper. The reason? "He will have to supervise the work being done on the Narmada." The State Government was taken aback and refused to accede to his request. Now, Tyagi has asked for a room in the Secretariat and a drone camera for keeping an eye on illegal sand mining in the Narmada and other rivers. This time his argument is that he needs modern astra-shastra (weaponry) to save the rivers. — In Business Standard

Woman arrested for constantly nagging husband

London: A 58-year-old woman from the UK, spent 17 hours in jail after being charged with "controlling behavior" after allegedly nagging her husband to clean the house instead of his car.

Troubles began for Valerie Sanders with the law in April of 2018, when during a routine check at her husband Michael's workplace Jobcentre UK staff noticed he was in a bad mood. After asking him about it, they learned it was because his wife was constantly asking him to clean and polish the family home and complaining that he spent too much time at the gym and cleaning his car. Apparently, this qualified as "coercive or controlling behavior", an offense punishable by law, so police turned up at the Sanders residence in Catterick, arrested Valerie and threw her in jail for 17 hours. She was charged with controlling behavior and was forced to fight a legal battle for over a year.

Shiny cocoons that look like gold jewels

New York: The Shiny cocoons of orange-spotted tiger clearwing butterfly that look like gold jewels is to distract predators and even discourage them from getting to close.

The orange-spotted tiger clearwing butterfly lives in the jungles of Central and South America, from Mexico and all the way to the Amazon rain-forests. It's a colorful little thing, with a wingspan of 65 to 75 millimeters, but it's not exactly the most eye-catching of butterflies. Its pupae however look like pure gold, literally. They look just like elaborate gold jewelry hanging on the back of plant leaves, and even on the walls of houses in rural areas. But unlike actual gold jewels, these shiny, metallic-looking chrysalises are not meant to draw attention, but distract predators and even discourage them from getting to close. It's a natural defense mechanism, and a very effective one at that.

Residents of Somanathanagar and R.T. Nagar area urgently need a Petrol Bunk

Sir,

We the residents of Somanathanagar, Dattagalli 3rd Stage, appeal to the authorities concerned to sanction a "Petrol Bunk" on priority, which is badly needed to cater to the needs of residents of Dattagalli, Kergalli, Somanathanagar, Kanakadasanagar, Ramakrishnanagar, R.T. Nagar area, University Layout etc., at a convenient location.

Sadly in spite of being a thickly populated area with thousands of houses, apartments, commercial buildings, there is not even a single petrol bunk anywhere nearby.

We have to rush either to one near A-Z supermarket (Jagadamba Petrol Bunk) or one near Sharadadevinagar Arch. The Ring Road passes through these areas and right up to H.D. Kote Road junction there is no petrol station, but we have quite a few liquor shops ! As a result we are put into lot of hardship.

On behalf of hundreds of motorists, I urge the authorities concerned to look into our request and sanction a petrol bunk immediately.

MCC's online water bill payment facility a reality now

State Cabinet clears Rs.228 crore drinking water project to Mysuru

MCC Commissioner Shilpa Nag seen addressing reporters at MCC Old Council Hall in city yesterday as Mayor Pushpalatha Jagannath, Dy. Mayor Shafi Ahmed and other officials look on.

Mysuru, June 29 (MTY&BCT)- After clearing roadblock and technical glitches, Mysuru City Corporation (MCC) has finally launched online payment of water bills in an attempt to plug revenue leakage and keeping in mind the convenience of residents.

The facility was launched yesterday at the Old Council Hall by Mayor Pushpalatha Jagannath and MCC Commissioner Shilpa Nag. Deputy Mayor Shafi Ahmed was present.

Paying water bills is one of the main pain points as the customers have to visit the office and make payment. The new system provides an easy solution. This will help residents of the city to pay bills with a click of mouse while sitting at home or office, reducing the burden of visiting the water offices and waiting to pay bills.

People can visit MCC's website (http://www.mysorecity.mrc.gov.in) or the web link sent with the SMS alerts to registered consumers. However, the current system of bill payment at the counters of Vani Vilas Water Works (VVWW) and at Mysore-One Centres will continue.

The e-payment facility has been launched through the Bharat Bill Payment System (BBPS) of the National Payments Corporation of India (NPCI). Payments can be made through online banking, debit or credit cards, UPI payments, digital payment apps, and others. However, provision to pay the bills using mobile applications such as Paytm and Google Pay will be done shortly. There will be no service or convenience charges. By launching the facility, the MCC has become second after Bruhat Bengaluru Mahanagara Palike (BBMP) to introduce the system through BBPS.

The city has 1.56 lakh water connections and the online facility will help users as well as the MCC to generate more revenue. MCC Commissioner Shilpa Nag said, "The online system is a boon for both consumers and the MCC as the consumers have easy access to pay the bills." Consumers can obtain the details of the payment on visiting the website and it is a user-friendly system, the Commissioner said.

Shilpa Nag, who was instrumental in launching the initiative, said no service charge or convenience fee will be charged from consumers. "The online payment is available at banks registered with the BBPS platform such as SBI, Corporation Bank, Canara Bank, Punjab National Bank, Andhra Bank, Federal Bank, ICICI Bank, IDBI Bank, IDFC Bank, and Indus Ind Bank. It is also available with MobiKwik and BHIM apps.

VVWW has collected mobile phone contact numbers of 65,000 consumers and details of the bill and web link of the online portal will be sent to the mobile phones. In order to ensure transparency, a photo billing system has been introduced where the bill readers will click the photograph of the water meter installed at the houses and the image will be directly uploaded to the server, officials said. A separate window has been created on the MCC website to pay water bills and also register the cell phone numbers to receive SMS alerts. Complaints also can be registered.

Mayor Pushpalatha Jagannath said that the photo billing system will ensure more transparency in billing system and also clear the confusions if any among the consumers.

Shilpa Nag said: "In the coming days, measures will be taken to launch online system to collect property tax on the lines of other City Corporations like BBMP, Hubballi-Dharwad Municipal Corporation and Mangalore City Corporation."

The Karnataka Cabinet has cleared the pending water project worth Rs.194 crore to provide 24x7 drinking water to Mysuru under Jawaharlal Nehru National Urban Renewal Mission. Of the Rs.194 crore, the Centre was to provide Rs.155 crore but the Centre sanctioned only Rs.101 crore.

Now the State Government will sanction the remaining money so that the project can see the light of the day. The total project cost is Rs.228 crore and the State will contribute Rs.127 crore, said Krishna Byre Gowda, Rural Development and Panchayat Raj Minister.

Railways, Police, KPTCL major water bill defaulters

Overall outstanding amount is Rs.169 crore

Among 1.5 lakh water consumers, 70% pay their bills regularly while the rest default on making payments. Government agencies such as the Police Department, Railways, KPTCL, Grama Panchayats, Education and Excise Departments are the major water bill defaulters. In all, 41 government agencies have to pay a sum of Rs.39.32 crore water bill arrears to the MCC.

While nine Grama Panchayats have to pay Rs.19.33 crore, the City Police have to pay Rs. 4.50 crore. Railways have to pay Rs.7.11 crore. Health Department has kept pending Rs.1.10 crore and Education Department has to pay Rs.90.69 lakh. While Administrative Training Institute has to pay Rs.22.65 lakh and KPTCL has pending Rs.2.40 crore, University of Mysore has to pay Rs.16.37 lakh.

According to officials, the overall outstanding amount is Rs.169 crore. The authorities have issued notices to private people, asking them to pay the pending amount. "We will write to the government agencies to clear the arrears," said MCC Commissioner Shilpa Nag.

She said consumers cannot accrue their bills from April 1, 2019 onwards and specific instructions had been given to the bill collectors in this regard. "We will launch drives including major defaulters' drives and monthly drives — to collect the outstanding amount. Under major defaulters drive, the authorities will serve a notice and disconnect the water supply, if the consumer fails to pay the bill," she added.

Cloud-seeding in Mysuru from July second week

Two aircraft will seed the clouds for 400 hours

Bengaluru, June 29 (UNI)- Faced with deficient rainfall, the State Government will launch cloud-seeding operations from mid-July to coincide with sowing activity. The Government is spending Rs.93 crore on cloud-seeding for 2019-20 and 2020-21.

The government has already received clearance from the Directorate General of Civil Aviation (DGCA) to fly two aircraft that will release aerosol (silver iodide or sodium chloride) into the clouds to stimulate the precipitation process and form rain, said Rural Development and Panchayat Raj (RDPR) Minister Krishna Byre Gowda yesterday.

Authorities are still waiting clearance from the Directorate General of Foreign Trade to import three weather-monitoring radars from the USA that will not only detect rain-bearing clouds, but also study cloud growth.

Krishna Byre Gowda

It was decided earlier to fly the aircraft from Bengaluru and Hubballi. The government has now picked Mysuru and Hubballi. "Bengaluru has three air spaces — HAL, Yelahanka Air Force base and the International Airport. Since they have their own Air Traffic Control (ATC), we expect restrictions. We will need to act fast as soon as clouds are available. Any delay in response time will result in an opportunity lost. So, we have shifted one of the centres to Mysuru," Krishna Byre Gowda told reporters.

In 2017, the "Varshadhaare," a cloud-seeding project generated 2.51 tmcft of additional water and rainfall was 27.90 percent above the natural rainfall. This time, authorities expect precipitation to increase by about 30 percent due to cloud-seeding.

Last time, the Government ordered 300 hours of aircraft flying for a 60-day period. This time, it has been increased to 400 hours for 90 days.

Monsoon session

The Monsoon Session of Karnataka Legislature will begin from June 12 and will continue till June 26.

The decision of holding the Session was taken at the Karnataka Cabinet meeting in Bengaluru yesterday.

MCC's way of
Beti Bachao, Beti Padhao

Mysuru, June 29 (MTY&BCT)- This is the Mysuru City Corporation's (MCC) version of 'Beti Bachao, Beti Padhao' scheme launched by the Modi Government that aims to generate awareness and improve the efficiency of welfare services intended for girls in India.

Mayor Pushpalatha Jagannath yesterday released 'Yogalakshmi' Scheme poster at MCC's Old Council Hall. The Scheme ensures financial stability of girls born in BPL families. Deputy Mayor Shafi Ahmed and MCC Commissioner Shilpa Nag were present.

A sum of Rs. 25,000 will be deposited in the name of the girl child born in Government Hospitals of the city and the benefits will be extended after the girl attains 18 years. The Mayor said, "The MCC has earmarked Rs. 2.5 crore for the scheme in the 2019-20 Budget. First 1,000 new-born girl babies will be covered under the Scheme. The Scheme is applicable from April 1, 2019 and the parents of the baby must be residents of the city for the last five years. Several people have already applied for the scheme."

Parents of eligible beneficiaries can collect the applications from nine Zonal Offices or from the birth and death wing of the MCC. Provision has been made to bear the expenditure from the general fund of the current financial year.

Applications should be submitted within 90 days of the birth of the girl child along with relevant documents. It is mandatory to provide the photo of the parents along with the new-born. Apart from BPL families, the girl children born into the families whose annual income is below Rs. 2.5 lakh are also eligible for the Scheme.

The family of beneficiaries should have only two children including the girl child and the mothers should possess 'mother card' (provided by the Health and Family Welfare Department after delivery at Government Hospitals) and the infant should have been administered vaccination.

The parents should be the residents of MCC limits for the last five years. The mother must have a joint account in the bank and an Aadhaar or voter ID card. It is only after scrutinising the applications, the benefit will be extended by depositing the prescribed amount in the bank.

The funds can be withdrawn after the girl attains 18 years of age and the scheme also aims to promote the services of the Government Hospitals.

Neglected vacant land at N.R. Choultry premises

Ideal for multi-level parking lot

Nanjaraja Bahadur Choultry Management Committee President C. Krishnappa

I still remember that in 1984, the then Prime Minister Rajiv Gandhi had set up INTACH (Indian National Trust for Art and Cultural Heritage). Soon the Mysore Chapter of INTACH also came into being. The very purpose of this Trust was conservation and renovation of heritage buildings and memorials. It was also INTACH's responsibility to construct new structures while retaining their heritage character, whenever renovation or restoration was not possible. Senior Journalist late Krishna Vattam of Deccan Herald became the first Convenor of INTACH, Mysore Chapter.

It is nothing but natural for Mysuru, the kingdom that was ruled by the Maharajas, to have over 500 heritage structures. It is for this reason the Mysore Chapter of INTACH was formed. But unfortunately, most of the people did not know about the existence of INTACH in Mysore as it had remained almost non-functional.

But it was delightful to note that a fully reconstituted INTACH Mysuru Chapter was launched in city yesterday and even more delightful is the fact that the all-new INTACH was inaugurated by the scion of erstwhile royal family Yaduveer Krishnadatta Chamaraja Wadiyar. Also, it is meaningful that a heritage expert Prof. N.S. Rangaraju was named as the Convenor of INTACH, Mysuru Chapter.

Whatever it is, Yaduveer, who spoke at the inauguration of INTACH Mysuru yesterday, said he is opposed to Nanjaraja Bahadur Choultry Management Committee President C. Krishnappa's proposal to use the four-acre vacant land of the Choultry for multi-level vehicle parking lot.

At present, the NR Choultry doesn't need the neglected vacant land for its use and for this reason, the vast vacant space around the Choultry built in an area of 10 acres, was leased out for commercial activities, such as Hotel, Government Office and other private establishments. Recently, the lease period of some of these establishments expired and the Government, instead of taking back the land, has renewed the lease period. In such a situation, there is nothing wrong in the proposal for utilising the poorly maintained vacant land around the Choultry for public use. Otherwise this land would go into the hands of private persons like it had happened earlier. Should the land be used for PUBLIC purpose or PRIVATE? Specially when there is a crying need for parking lots in the downtown areas of our city — Devaraja Urs Road, Shivarampet and Dhanvanthri Road areas. In case it is not done for reasons mentioned by Yaduveer, it will be like 'Counting the trees and missing the wood.'

The existing heritage structure, Nanjaraja Bahadur Choultry, need not be demolished for constructing multi-level vehicle parking facility nor there is threat to the structure's heritage character. The suggested multi-level parking lot can come up at the vacant land along Dewan's Road.

And in case, the vacant land of N.R. Choultry is left as it is, there is every chance that the influential and vested interests would grab this land using political clout. In such a scenario, Yaduveer Krishnadatta Chamaraja Wadiyar must realise that it is very wise in the interests of the public to utilise this vacant land for public use rather than see the land being grabbed by the private parties.

Meanwhile, in my Point Blank column titled "Recalling how an earlier attempt to provide multi-level parking facility was subverted" (Star of Mysore dated June 27), I had mentioned how a meeting of some prominent citizens of Mysuru was called by the then Deputy Commissioner to discuss issues concerning city's infrastructure. It included providing a multi-level parking facility at another huge Government land lying unused to ease parking problem of D. Devaraja Urs Road. Sadly, the proposal was sabotaged.

Hope, the present suggestion by Krishnappa to utilise the huge vacant land of Nanjaraja Bahadur Choultry, close to the business hub of downtown — Shivarampet, D. Devaraja Urs Road, Dhanvanthri Road areas — for providing parking facility to hundreds of shoppers would not be sabotaged like it happened then.

No more parking woes

The PWD authorities focussed mainly on four-wheeler parking as the majority of the visitors come by four-wheelers and the rest take buses and other modes of transport.

The road leading from the parking lot to the main road will be widened and once the construction is completed, the existing bus stand will be shifted to new place. The space to house the bus stand has been earmarked next to the parking lot. The parking lot will have shelters and toilets for the visitors, they said.

116 shopping outlets

A separate building has been constructed to accommodate vendors of flowers, puja material and fruits and all the temple vendors will be shifted there on the lines of Tirupati Temple. There are 116 shopping outlets inside the building for the vendors to set shop. The shopping complex will help decongest the main street.

"Ninety percent of the works are complete and the only hitch is shifting the vendors as they are reluctant to move into new building foreseeing economic loss. But ultimately they have to be convinced to set shops in the new building. Once the shops are relocated the approach road to the temple will be cleared for the smooth movement of devotees," the officials said.

500-metre walkway

For the convenience of devotees, a 500-metre walkway has been constructed from the parking lot to the temple. This walkway is covered at the top to protect the devotees from sun and rain. As part of the project, the area around the Mahishasura Statue will be beautified along with landscaping. Support railings, rest rooms, shelters and toilets will come up along the steps and the Nandi Statue premises will be made greener.

A Ground Level Service Reservoir has been built to hold five lakh litres of water. Of this, one lakh litres will be used for drinking water purpose and four lakh litres will be used for fire-fighting measures on the entire Chamundi Hill, officials added.

Palace North Gate

Vehicles being parked in the premises of the Heritage Town Hall.

Alternatively, cars are allowed to be parked in the open area beside Town Hall next to the multi-level parking lot that is yet to be commissioned.

Barricades have been erected in front of the Kote Anjaneyaswamy Temple and sign boards have been put up directing vehicles to the Town Hall parking. Interestingly, as if to welcome the Police move, a bunch of pigeons flock to the empty space all the day to peck on food and insects.

In another development, the Police Commissioner told Star of Mysore that very soon, entry to Chamundi Hill from 9 pm to 6 am will be banned. All the gates that lead up to the Hill will be closed during the time.

Balakrishna said that of late, many unruly elements are spoiling the sanctity of the Hill in the guise of 'night rides and drives' and this has led to law and order problem and also many accidents. "Devotees do not come to the temple at night and only people who want to have fun come there and it is difficult to control them. We will put an end to this soon," he said. Chamundi Hill comes under the Krishnaraja Police Station.

Event the residents of the Hill have frequently complied about the nuisance created by these elements in the middle of the night. There are three main roads that lead to Chamundi Hill — from Tavarekatte, the one next to it leading to the Nandi Bull and the third one is from Uttanahalli Road, the southern side of the hill. Gates have been installed at the entrance of all the three roads.

Exception will be only made to the residents of the Hill and entry passes will be issued to them. The gates will be locked after 9 pm and one security personnel will be posted at each of the entrance gates. These passes could be used throughout the year. If there is an emergency in the middle of the night, the gates would be opened to such pass holders, Balakrishna added.

Weekend STAR Supplement

Costume Cornucopia

Art productions comprising dance and theatre have been a major form of entertainment since ancient times. Theatre evolved as an organised way to express creativity and with it came the evolution of costume design. Without costumes, productions are neither believable nor loved by audience. Costume design has had very humble beginnings that have morphed into astounding creations that are now seen in modern theatrical productions. As in many cities, Mysuru being a cultural and theatre hub has Rajeshwari Vastralankara, a repertoire of costumes. This Weekend Star Supplement stitches the story of Rajeshwari Vastralankara and how it has been helping people dress up and narrate stories that awe audience.

Transforming ordinary men and women into stage actors

DEXTEROUS: B.M. Ramachandra, also a make-up artist, applies lip colour on a performer before the team takes the stage by storm.

"I have plans to stage a drama and I need costumes for artistes. I cannot afford to buy costumes and I would rather prefer to rent all of them and I have 20 artistes performing." Tell this to any Mysurean and he will immediately direct you to Rajeshwari Vastralankara on Madhavacharya Road near Agrahara in city, one of the oldest, well stocked up and novel costume rental shops. It is an intimate performance space dedicated to costumes, art and cultural paraphernalia. It is a versatile venue that provides costumes to all eclectic line up of performances - from innovative fine arts and dance programme productions to eye-catching work by local artistes and performing arts companies.

No less than a temple

It is no less than a temple. The building has a slope roof adorned with country tiles and supported by pillars that resemble the facade of some traditional temples in villages. A notice on the wall on right side of the entry door asks visitors to leave their footwear outside. A corner of the building has an idol of Goddess Rajeshwari, the guiding force for this abode of art. And the man behind setting up of this famed shop is B.M. Ramachandra. The 64-year-old is a multi-faceted personality in the field of theatre and his unflinching love and dedication for stage has made him a popular name in Vastralankara or costume design. Interestingly, there is writing on the wall in front of his house that reads "Kala Degula, Bannada Vaadi" (A temple of art, house of art).

PROFESSIONAL TOUCH: B.M. Ramachandra's son B.R. Manjunath helps a child dress up for a fancy dress competition. A unique thing about this shop is that children have a wide variety of dresses to choose from. Picture right shows the idol of Goddess Rajeshwari, the guiding force behind Sri Rajeshwari Vastralankara.

Rajeshwari Vastralankara is filled with various kinds of fancy dresses in the shelves and the more you explore the more you discover. Inside shelves and boxes are bits and pieces from another world — soldier's swords, king's robes, queen's jewellery, demon's garlands with skulls, flowing gowns, stiff waist coats, gold-coloured papier-mâché crowns and turbans, to fruit, insect, and animal outfits. This shop transforms ordinary men and women into stage actors who awe the audience.

The shop was built from scratch by B.M. Ramachandra, a makeup artiste who worked for many years in popular Kannada theatre, cinemas and TV serials. His shop has costumes for every possible traditional, historical and mythological theatre characters. There are also flashy identical clothes for dancers, astronaut costumes and uniforms for Roman soldiers.

This is a one-stop shop for fancy dress competitions where all types of fancy uniforms, Police and military fatigues, complete with toy weapons, air hostess uniforms, company uniforms, kids costumes, drama costumes, Krishna , joker costumes, dresses for Onake Obavva, Kittur Rani Chennamma, Jhansi Rani Laxmi Bai, vegetable, animal costumes, bird costumes and all types classical, religious, regional, western dress, Indian traditional drama costumes in all colours, shapes, sizes, designs, lengths and print can be found.

Started in 1983, the outlet supplies costumes for theatre, street plays, movies, small screens, schools and colleges, performing art schools and dance schools. "Although there are umpteen drama companies, it is expensive to purchase costumes for every show. Having worked in theatre, I decided to rent out costumes and started this business after my marriage," says Ramachandra.

Wide range of costumes are also available for dance forms like Bharatanatyam, Rajasthani, Manipuri, Gujarati, Kathakkali, Kuchipudi, Lavani, Bhangra, Salsa, contemporary and belly dancing. Not only this, traditional and region-specific attire including Maharashtrian, Punjabi, South Indian, designer Sherwanis, Pathani, Kurtas, designer sarees, designer Lehengas and Ghagra Cholis are also available. The shop also makes ornaments, wigs and crowns, hand-embroidered costumes and provides make-up sets to match the costumes.

CROWN PLACE: Ramachandra's son B.R. Mahalinga arranges the crowns used by Gods, kings and queens on stage.

Business is seasonal

We have very little business in May, June and July and these months are dedicated to check annual inventory of stocks and invest in new ones. Dressing up as a character from your imagination costs anything between Rs. 100 to Rs. 500 but the cost is hardly a factor as most parents don't mind shelling out money," says Ramachandra.

Majority students of performing arts schools run by noted dance exponents like Vasundhara Doraswamy, Prasanna Lakshmi, Sridhar Jain, Radhika Nandakumar, Varija Nalige, K. Ramamurthy Rao, Anitha and Nagashree are Ramachandra's regular customers.

> Shortage of quality craftsmen is our challenge as we are finding it difficult to meet customer demand which has evolved over time. In the past, schoolchildren mostly hired historical costumes. Children are more daring now as they look for that perfect fit and ask for designs that no one has ever attempted before. But we are doing our best to keep up with the changing times."
> — B.R. Manjunath, Ramachandra's son

Rajeshwari Vastralankara supplies costumes and provides make-up service to all performing arts centres, cultural programmes performed during Dasara, Kannada Sammelanas outside and inside the country, historical and mythological plays that are held in villages of Mysuru, Mandya, Chamarajanagar, Gowribidanur, Davanagere, Hassan, Chitradurga, Ballari, Shivamogga and other districts.

Awards and accolades

Ramachandra is the recipient of Karnataka Nataka Akademi Award in 1995-96. He was also felicitated with various awards by Vasundhara Performing Arts Award, Nrityagiri Award, District Rajyotsava Award and Hoysala Award.

Ramachandra wants his sons to continue the legacy. Elder son B.R. Manjunath and younger one B.R. Mahalinga are also adept in the realm and helping their father. His wife H.B. Yeshodha, also a theatre artiste, Ramachandra's sister and daughters-in-law, daughter and son-in-law are all helping him in this profession without depending upon labourers.

In between all these activities, Ramachandra engages in Ranga Chavadi Amateur Theatre Company activities. Many retired engineers, doctors, teachers, forest department and other government officials perform various characters and present their skills in the stage shows organised under Ranga Chavadi. This is their way of living happily.

A makeup artist with an eye for colour and design, B.M. Ramachandra started out in a humble way. "In 1981, I came to Mysore after my marriage to eke out a living and I found scope to start a costume shop of my own. What prompted me to do so was an incident where I had agreed to supply costumes and I failed. The play was 'Yechamma Nayaka' at Mysuru Central Prison to educate jail inmates. One of my friends, who promised to supply costumes, denied it at the eleventh hour. So I decided to set up my own shop and I have been running the same successfully so far," he reveals.

He said that he rebuilt the house on Madhvacharya Road lending an artistic touch and reserving the ground floor entirely to store costumes and imitation jewellery. Ramachandra was 17 when the artiste in him forced him to don make-up for his maiden role in theatre.

Having his roots in Rajmahal Guttahalli (now Vyalikaval) in Bengaluru, it was the lure of theatre that made Ramachandra end up in this profession. Amid opposition from his parents, one-day he decided to take the plunge into theatre movement after he was fed up with working as supervisor a cloth shop on Kempegowda Road in Bengaluru during 1970s.

When Ramachandra entered theatre, he was a novice but keenly watched dramas and this was his only experience. He later joined Viveka Ranga, a theatre company in Bengaluru along with his close pal Hamsalekha, another popular name in Kannada film industry as a lyricist and music director.

Later, Ramachandra joined Ponnuswamy, a man of yore at Chowdeshwari Vastralankara which was one of the famous costume rental shops in Bengaluru those days and learnt the techniques of make-up from Shivanna, working as his assistant. "From mythological to social, amateur to professional, modern to experimental, all plays become complete only with relevant costume," says Ramachandra.

Having worked with acclaimed theatre directors like B.V. Karanth, Srinivas Kappanna, Veeranna Belagallu, T.S. Nagabharana, R. Nagesh, H.K. Yoganarasimha, Prema Karanth, Chandrashekar Kambara, Girish Karnad, C.G. Krishnamurthy (CGK), Gubbi Company's technician Balaji Singh and technicians of Chowdeshwari Alankara of Bengaluru besides international fame artistes Vasilios Calitsis (Greece), Fridge Benefits (America), costume specialist Adriyana (Italy), institutes like National School for Drama (NSD) New Delhi and Rangayana in Mysuru, today, Ramachandra has the credit of renting costumes to more than 1,000 plays irrespective of languages.

He has also dabbled in the world of films, working as its makeup artist and supplied costumes to more than 30 Kannada films including 'Veerappan', 'Sirivantha', 'Nannavalu Nannavalu', 'Prachanda Ravana', 'Vasantha Kavya' and other Kannada films. He also supplied costumes and worked as makeup artiste to history-based television serials.

25 % of earning for the needy

Apart from contributing his mite for promotion of theatre, growth of Kannada and culture, B.M. Ramachandra also contributes 25 per cent of profit earned by his Vastralankara for needy people every year. His shop gives scholarship to meritorious children of theatre artistes, financial aid to widows of theatre artistes and holds mass feeding for poor during Ayudha Puja every year.

Free costumes and make-up service are given for orphan, deaf dumb and blind students, Shakthidhama and government school students whenever they conduct fancy dress and cultural programmes.

Ramachandra said that lot of children ask him to provide forest brigand Veerappan's dress to take part in fancy dress competitions but he never encourages such wishes as it would send a wrong signal to the society.

ADDING GLITZ: Most of the clothes are stitched at Rajeshwari Vastralankara itself. Also, they are fashioned, styled and resized as per customer requirements. Ramachandra and his sons personally supervise the work.

Newly "DEVELOPED" Cheluvamba Park crying for immediate attention

The defunct Rain Water Harvesting System at Cheluvamba Park.

By R. Chandra Prakash

Cheluvamba Park in V.V. Puram near Akashvani has been "developed" by MCC at great financial costs over a period. Rain Water Harvesting system was implemented here. During 2014-17, Rs. 35-plus lakh contract was given for developing the walking path, planting suitable garden plants, developing lawn with Mexican grass with sprinkler system to keep the grass green all round the year. The cost of tender included maintenance of the newly-renovated garden for next three years.

In 2016, Solar Power generating system was established at a cost of about Rs.40 lakh with an ambition of providing uninterrupted lighting in the park during night. A toilet was built under public demand. A large sump was built at great cost as borewell was found insufficient for the water requirement of the renovated park. Due to demand from a group of park users, used interlocking tiles were laid on the internal walk path. Several new stone benches were provided for the users. Fancy dustbins were also installed at various places within the park.

With so much of money poured into this park, Cheluvamba Park should have been a Model and Modern Park. But, then why is that walkers are frustrated, contacting area Corporator/s, MLAs and the MCC officials?

Because, all the money spent on this park seems to have gone down the drain. The condition of main walk path is pathetic [see pic.]. At several places pebbles/ stones are projecting due to soil erosion caused by faulty surface and unscientific drainage of rain water. At certain places these erosions are due to uncontrolled water spray from the sprinklers. That is, when they were once working! Top soil used is of sub-standard quality which contain large size stones and pebbles.

Dilapidated Heritage Green House in the Park.

Hidden Solar Power System.

Cheluvamba Park is a chosen destination of senior and super-senior citizens of both genders. They come from far and near, such as Brindavan Extension as well as Vijayanagar, apart from nearby Yadavagiri and VV Mohalla. Many of these delicate citizens have already taken a fall due to such pathetic condition of walk path. Even strong middle-aged users have had a taste of it. Those of them who used to prefer to walk barefoot, now have been visiting medical specialist for the damage suffered by their feet.

Rain Water Harvesting is not functional and filled with eroded mud and sand [see pic.]. Sprinklers are non-functional for various reasons [see pic.]. Mexican grass, which was chosen against the public advice, has vanished and is now fully occupied by weeds [see pic.]. Solar Power system is now hiding behind tall plants and having functioned for couple of months, is now fully non-functional [see pic.]. It has not reduced electricity bill even a bit.

The public toilet is either locked or without water and hardly maintained properly. Even recently installed Public Gymnasium, which has attracted a large number of park users of all age groups and both the genders, has several broken equipment and is not maintained. This surely is going to cause injuries to the users in near future.

Will MCC officials, area Corporators, MLAs and others look into this and provide necessary solutions to the problems confronted by Cheluvamba Park users? Can all the money spent on various projects in this park be useful to the public?

LURKING DANGER: To walk or not to walk on this walking path?

ICC World Cup 2019

South Africa scores big

nine-wicket win over Sri Lanka

Chester-le-Street, June 29- South Africa eased past Sri Lanka to register a nine-wicket win in the ICC World Cup 2019 match played at Chester-le-Street on Friday.

Excellent performances by Dwaine Pretorius, Chris Morris with the ball and Hashim Amla and skipper Faf du Plessis with the bat enabled South Africa to score a big win over a Sri Lankan side which failed miserably with the bat and ball.

South Africa's Dwaine Pretorius celebrates taking a wicket of Sri Lankan batsman on Friday.

Good start by South Africa

Winning the toss and electing to field, South Africa fast bowlers bowled well and struck early with Kagiso Rabada removing skipper Karunarathne (0) caught by skipper Faf du Plessis (0 for one). Kusal Perera (30, 34b, 4x4) and Avishka Fernando (30, 29b, 4x4) added 67-runs for the second wicket and tried to steady the innings. Avishka Fernando (30) departed at 67 for two in the 11.3rd over. Wickets fell at regular intervals and Sri Lanka lost the initiative. They lost Kusal Mendis (23), Angelo Mathews (11), Dhananjaya de Silva (24) and J. Mendis (18) quickly and were reduced to 163 for seven in 39.5 overs. Chris Morris (3 for 46), Dwaine Pretorius (3 for 25) and Rabada (2 for 36) were the wicket-takers for South Africa. Sri Lanka ended up scoring 203 in 49.3 overs.

Amla, Faf du Plessis excel

In reply, South Africa began shakily with opener Quinton de Kock (15) getting yorked by a Lasith Malinga beauty and South Africa were 31 for one in 4.5 overs. Opener Hashim Amla (80 n.o., 105b, 5x4) and skipper Faf du Plessis (96 n.o., 105b, 10x4, 1x6) batted with ease and added an unfinished 175-runs for the second wicket and helped their team register a big nine-wicket win which restored some pride for their country. South Africa scored 206 for one in 37.2 overs.

Australia heads the points table with 12 points, followed by India with 11 points. New Zealand is in the third place with 11 points followed by hosts England in the fourth place with 8 points. Nature hits hard at this 'Nature Cure' Hospital in K.G. Koppal

The pathetic condition of the Nature Cure Hospital on New Kantharaj Urs Road in K.G. Koppal, Mysuru.

Mysuru, June 29 (PM&NNN)- The condition of this Nature Cure Hospital which is hit hard by nature is really very pathetic. Whoever goes here for treatment will be shocked by its appearance as it could collapse at any time.

Yes, this 'Government Nature Cure Hospital' on New Kantharaj Urs Road in K.G. Koppal has reached such a dangerous level. While the doctors and staff who work here have to hold their breath, the patients who come here would want to flee for their dear lives.

The Hospital has reached a stage where it badly needs maintenance and repairs urgently. It also has shortage of staff and lacks basic facilities. In spite of all these problems, everyone concerned have turned a blind eye.

> The K.G. Koppal Government Nature Cure Hospital comes under AYUSH Department. However, the building belongs to MUDA. About 30 years ago, AYUSH took permission from MUDA to start the Hospital here. In the wake of the pathetic and dilapidated condition of the building, we had written to MUDA to permit us to repair it. But according to MUDA rules it cannot be given to us freely and hence we have asked for 30-year lease. Once this process is completed then we can take up the repair work immediately. Otherwise, it has been decided that the building will be demolished and a new one constructed.
> —Dr. Seethalakshmi, Deputy Director, AYUSH Department

Six-bed Hospital: This is a six-bed AYUSH Department (Department of Ayurveda, Yoga and Naturopathy, Unani, Siddha and Homoeopathy) Nature Cure Hospital. The building has developed cracks and the cement plastering is falling off in several places in the roof and walls and iron rods stand exposed.

In the Acupressure Room, there is the growth of roots of a tree which could result in more damages. And if it rains, the patient is forced to be shifted from room to room and treated. Even in spite of minimum facilities, every day at least 10 patients come here for treatment, which is noteworthy.

The building comes under MUDA (Mysuru Urban Development Authority) and since the last 30 years the Hospital is being run by the AYUSH Department.

There are a total of ten posts in the Hospital but there are only three persons including the staff nurse, clerk and a Group-D employee working here.

Medical Officer Dr. C. Renuka Devi of Srirampura Government Ayurveda Clinic is appointed as acting Medical Officer and she comes here on Tuesdays and Fridays to discharge her duties. Along with this, a teaching doctor from 'Government Nature Cure, Yoga Medical College and Hospital' on KRS Road comes here once in a month.

Patients who have undergone therapy for sthoolakaya, sandivata and other problems have found excellent results. Nearly 10 to 15 people are undergoing treatment here for various problems, said a Hospital staff.

There are many other therapies like Abhyanga treatment, water therapy, mud bath that can be given but due to the sad state of conditions of the rooms these treatments are not being given.

"We are working here with the fear of when the building will collapse. In the Acupressure Room the plaster of the roof had fallen. Luckily, the staff had gone outside for lunch and hence a disaster was averted," said Hospital's in-charge Medical Officer Dr. Renuka Devi expressing her anguish.

Youths take out bike rally for Super-Speciality Hospital in Kodagu

Mysuru, June 29 (BCT)- Following a massive social media campaign over the demand for an Emergency Super-Speciality Hospital in Kodagu, over 30 youths from Bengaluru under the banner of Kodava Riders Club had organised a Motorcycle Rally this morning from Bengaluru to Kodagu.

The rally route is Bengaluru-Mysuru-Gonikoppal-Virajpet-Madikeri and it was flagged off from Bengaluru Kodava Samaja premises in Vasanthnagar at 4.45 am by former Police Officer Biddanda Ashok Kumar or 'Tiger Ashok Kumar'. The rally was organised under the leadership of Ajjikuttira Pruthvi Subbaiah.

The tourist hotspot of Kodagu is a hilly district in the lap of Western Ghats and covers an area of 4,102 sq km. Even today, however, the district does not have a major Hospital and the existing Hospitals at Gonikoppal, Virajpet and Madikeri are in a pathetic state with no infrastructure and staff.

The residents have been forced to travel more than a hundred kilometres, either to Mangaluru, Mysuru or Bengaluru, to avail benefits of advanced medicine, even in case of an emergency and most of the patients die before they reach their destination hospitals.

Addressing the rallyists, Ashok Kumar said that many Kodagu residents have been demanding a multi-speciality hospital since years but successive Governments have not taken any steps in this direction. He flayed the historical neglect faced by Kodagu in spite of the district being the origin of River Cauvery and many stated that many athletes and soldiers hail from there. The demand for such a medical facility is justified and the Government must listen to the pleas, he opined.

Journalist Manippanda Santhosh Thammaiah also spoke and he too regretted the step-motherly attitude of successive State Governments towards Kodagu. He added that a super-speciality hospital for Kodagu is the need of the hour as it will benefit the people of Kodagu as well as the tourists.

The rallyists reached Mysuru Kodava Samaja at around 7.30 am and Kodava Samaja authorities here had arranged breakfast. The rallyists left Mysuru at 8.15 am and will take the route of Gonikoppal, Ammathi, Virajpet and Madikeri. A public function has been organised at Ammathi and a memorandum will be submitted to Kodagu Deputy Commissioner Annies Kanmani Joy who will be in Ammathi today.

The bike-borne team will leave Madikeri to Kushalnagar and participate in an event at Kodagu Sainik School, Koodige where awareness will be created among school children about safe driving. Later, the rallyists will leave for Bengaluru.

WORD OF THE DAY

Shot-clog

Pronunciation: SHAHT-klahg.
Meaning: A bore tolerated only because he or she pays the shot.
Origin: The shot in shot-clog refers to a charge to be paid. It's a cousin to, and synonymous with, scot, a word likely only familiar to modern speakers in the term scot-free, meaning "completely free from obligation, harm, or penalty." The origin of the clog part of shot-clog is less clear. Perhaps it's meant to draw a parallel between a substance that impedes a pipe's flow and a person who impedes a good time; or perhaps companions' tabs accumulate before the shot-clog as so much dross in a clogged pipe, while the shot-clog yammers on unawares. The 17th-century playwright Ben Jonson was particularly fond of shot-clog, and while the word is no longer in regular use, it might work for you as a suitable old-time insult for that person in your party who is fine to have around so long as they pick up the tab.
Example: "Alas! I behold thee with pity, not with anger: thou common shot-clog, gull of all companies; methinks I see thee walking in Moorfields without a cloak, with half a hat ... borrowing and begging threepence." — John Marston, Ben Jonson, and George Chapman, Eastward Ho!, 1605

THE ODD WORD

Salopettes

High-waisted skiing pants with shoulder straps.

PHRASE OF THE DAY

Shrinking violet

Meaning: A shy or modest person.

Origin: Anyone coming across the expression 'shrinking violet' for the first time might be excused for being confused. You might wonder who Violet was and why she might be, like Alice in Wonderland, telescoping down to the size of a guinea-pig. The English language is chock-full of phrases that include people's names, for example 'For Pete's sake', 'Davy Jones' locker', 'Jimmy Riddle' and so on; and there's a whole page of 'Jacks'. By and large, with some notable exceptions like 'Sweet Fanny Adams' and 'Hobson's choice', these don't refer to real people. The violet in this case isn't an imaginary diffident woman but a flower. As for the shrinking, we don't mean reducing in size but modestly recoiling.
However, the phrase 'shrinking violet' was coined in the UK before selective breeding turned the plants into images of steroidal blousiness. The native English violet (Viola odorata, known as wood violet) is, as seems appropriate for our small green island, a reclusive and understated flower. Fey Georgian gentlemen like Keats and Shelley were disposed to wandering around woodland composing poetry and it was a close friend of theirs who was doing just that when he gave the ground-hugging Viola odorata the name 'shrinking violet'.
